

DISCLAIMER & LEGAL NOTICE

Please note that the free accessible content on this website is only meant for information purposes. The content does not constitute any guarantee for providing the described services and should not be seen as advice related to money transfers.

EMERALD strives to keep the information updated and accurate. However, we disclaim any and all liability that may occur from errors or inaccessibility to the web-site. Further EMERALD disclaims any and all liability for external websites to which this website links as well as information given on these websites. We strive to maintain updated protection against computer viruses, as well as physical measures to protect our office locations, and we disclaim any and all liability for any attacks by hackers. EMERALD holds all rights, including copyrights, in and to this website (www.emerald24.co.uk) and the content posted on this website.